

Low carbon mobility – what's in the policy toolbox?

Thursday 7 November 2019 | 17:00 - 18:45

Martin's EU Hotel, Boulevard Charlemagne 80, 1000 Brussels

The European institutions are facing an unprecedented challenge: providing sound policies responding to the urgent need to address climate change. As part of the commitment to the Paris Agreement, the European Commission, mandated by the European Parliament and the European Council, had initiated the process of crafting a long-term strategy for energy and climate in the EU; the foundations of such a strategy were reflected in the long-term vision for a prosperous, modern, competitive and climate-neutral economy by 2050.

It will now be for the upcoming European Commission, led by Ursula von der Leyen, to develop concrete policy initiatives to reach this objective, in cooperation with a freshly renewed European Parliament and the Council.

UPEI invites you to this conference to discuss the policy instruments providing for the effective deployment of low carbon solutions in the road transport sector, while ensuring consumers' acceptance.

Panellists and participants will discuss, inter alia, the following issues:

- how to decarbonise fuels to achieve climate objectives;
- how to deploy alternative fuels and vehicles;
- what should be the role of taxation.

REGISTER HERE

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT

UPEI Secretariat

info@upeil.org

upeil.org | T +32 2 740 20 20 | @FuelsSuppliersEU

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Artur Runge-Metzger,
Director Climate Strategy,
Governance and Emissions
from non-trading sectors,
DG Climate Action,
European Commission

PANELLISTS

Claire Depré,
Head of Unit,
Sustainable & Intelligent Transport,
DG Transport and Mobility,
European Commission

Olivier Lenz,
Programmes Director,
FIA (Fédération Internationale
de l'Automobile)

Nicolas Kurtoglou,
Fuels Manager,
SNPAA (French Bioethanol Producers' Association)

Kathrin Watson,
Head of the EU Affairs Office, Bosch

MODERATOR

Dave Keating,
Freelance journalist

PROGRAMME

16.30 - 17.00 Registration
17.00 - 17.15 Welcome remarks
by Brian Worrall, UPEI President
17.15 - 17.30 Keynote speech
17.30 - 18.30 Panel discussion
18.30 - 18.45 Closing remarks
18.45 - 19.45 Networking reception